Old Issue Again Before U.S. Court

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In an attack on federal tax laws, the Supreme Court has been asked to extend the Fifth Amendment's guarantee against self-incrimination from gamblers to moonshiners.

It's an old argument but, judging from a decision in a lower federal court, legal opinion is now divided.

At stake are federal income tax laws requiring the posting of a sign at a lawful distillery, furnishing of bond, registration information, and purchase of tax stamps for whiskey.

In 1968, the Supreme Court said the federal law requiring gamblers to buy stamps in effect violated the constitutional protection against self-incrimination.

Invoking the Fifth Amendment is an absolute defense in cases where the gambling stamp provision was used to identify gamblers, the high court ruled.

The new but similar attack on alcoholic beverage laws was brought by Walter Grooms and Glenn Hooper, both convicted in Detroit in connection with manufacture of illicit whisky.

Their argument: Had they

Conviction for Murder Reversed

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court, in an extensive opinion on criminal insanity, reversed the first-degree murder conviction of Leslie David Hill of Jonesboro today and ordered a new trial.

Hill, who had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity, was tried for the fatal shooting Nov. 24, 1968, of Willie Young after an argument during a dice game at the home of another person in Craighead County.

The Supreme Court reversed the conviction because of two errors.

One error was the decision of Circuit Court Judge A. S. "Todd" Harrison to refuse to allow testimony as to Hill's mental condition by persons long acquainted with him but not trained in psychology.

The court said the other error was an instruction to the jury by the judge that Hill was not excused from responsibility by becoming "suddenly depraved to such an extent that his conscience ceases to control or influence his action ..."

The instruction was verbatim from a previous Supreme Court opinion, but in the Hill case the high court said the instruction should have been limited to emotional or moral insanity.

"This instruction eliminated from the jury's consideration one important element — the cause of such sudden depravity," Associate Justice J. Fred Jones wrote in the unanimous 12-page opinion.

The opinion stipulated the earlier finding that "frenzy is not insanity," and that such "emotional or moral insanity" is no defense against a criminal charge.

But the court added: "Such depravity, sudden or otherwise, may be a defense in a criminal case if it is caused by a disease of the mind, but not otherwise."

The trial records showed that

Hill, who was in the Army in 1953-45, had received total disability veteran's benefits under a military diagnosis of schizophrenia, which is a mental disease. The defendant had been declared judicially incompetent in 1947 and had been under guardianship since then, the records showed.

The defense had offered testimony by four men acquainted with Hill to substantiate the convention that the defendant was insane at the time of the crime.

The Supreme Court said the opinion of a lay witness is not admissible in evidence "until it be first shown by his own testimony that he has information upon which it can reasonably be based."

The Supreme Court said trial courts are to decide whether a witness has sufficient information as a basis for an opinion before the opinion can be admitted and that a jury is to determine how much weight to give such an opinion if it is admitted.

One of the prospective witnesses, Alex Turnage, said he had known Hill for 25 to 30 years, that they once had roomed together and that they often visited in each other's home.

Turnage said Hill "would be leading a dog and the dog wasn't there," that Hill talked about "the little green man," and that Hill had spoken of hearing voices.

"The day he shot Willie Young, he had kind of a smirky smile on his face," Turnage said.

The state objected and was sustained when Turnage was asked if Hill knew the difference between right and wrong on the day Young was slain.

The defense offered Turnage's opinion that Hill did not know the difference.

The Supreme Court concluded that sufficient foundation was laid in the testimony of Turnage to permit him to express the opinion in the trial.

Mrs. Russell Is Rotary Speaker

For the Hope Rotary Club program last Friday, Albert Graves presented Mrs. Carter Russell, who told about the trip to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J., which she and a group of local people made. She reviewed the highlights of the trip, including the stops in such interesting locations as Washington, D.C. and New York City. After passing around some pictures and pamphlets she had brought back, she told her audience what a thrill it was to see this great country of ours and she concluded by singing "This Is My Country" accompanied Mrs. Evva Reynerson at the piano.

Rotarian Len Clarke, who lives on the island of Jersey that is located between France and England, was a visitor at the meeting and made a few impromptu remarks about his home and club. James Hannah Ward was a visiting Rotarian from Texarkana, and Jesse Duckett was a local guest.

President C.R. "Dick" Moore had charge of the business meeting, welcomed everyone and gave reports on hospitalized fellow Rotarians, Warren Butler and Roy Anderson.

Guaranteed Income Plan Nears Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's plan for a guaranteed annual income for the nation's poor is nearing a crucial Senate test with the administration unable to count on the strong Republican support necessary to win.

The Senate Finance Committee starts executive hearings Tuesday into Nixon's welfare reform program, including the guaranteed income plan, and a related Social Security measure. Both have passed the House.

The administration needs at least nine votes among the 10

Dr. James W. Branch, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. James W. Branch, Sr., has been selected as one of the outstanding Young Men of America. This award was given in recognition of his outstanding ability, accomplishments and service to his community, country and profession. He was selected for these accomplishments while at Mineola and Texarkana, Texas. Dr. Branch, Jr. is married to formerly, Betty Jo Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie J. Cox of Hope and they have 3 children. They are currently in Chicago, where Dr. Branch is taking a residency in Surgery.

Democrats and seven Republicans on the committee to clear the legislation for Senate debate.

However, a key Democratic source, who asked not to be named, said there are not enough votes among committee members of his party to get the bill to the floor. "The President is going to have to get some more help from the Republicans," he said.

But, administration strategists admit they are confident only of the vote of Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, but hope to pick up more support in the closed committee sessions.

The guaranteed income provision that is sparking the GOP reluctance — downright opposition in some cases — is formally known as the Family Assistance Plan, or FAP.

1971. You've changed. We've changed. Chevrolet

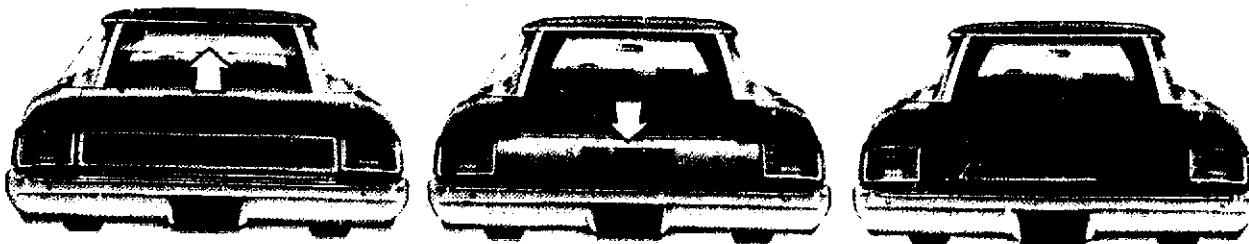

Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

A vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

See what we mean by putting you first? Now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Robert Brotherton

The Garden of the bride's parents' home was the setting when Miss Margo Snyder and Robert Brotherton were united in marriage on Saturday, September 5 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Frank L. McCormick officiated at the double ring ceremony in a garden accented with mums and carnations in blue and yellow.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Snyder of Fort Morgan, Colorado and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. G. H. (Hap) Brotherton and the late Mr. Brotherton of Blevins.

Kerry Craig played appropriate selections on the violin as the guest assembled as well as the procession.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a street length gown of white chiffon and wore a shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried a nose-gay of carnation and roses.

As maid of honor the bride's sister, Miss Betsy Snyder, wore a street length dress of pink linen and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mark Christensen served the groom as best man. The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue silk and Mrs. Brotherton wore a green silk dress. Both mothers had orchard corsages.

A garden reception followed the ceremony. An informal arrangement of summer flowers was placed on the reception table.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs the bride wore a purple tunic dress with black accessories.

The newly weds will reside in Sterling, Colorado where both will attend Northeastern Junior College.

Out of town guest were Mrs. Chris Snyder of Boulder; Mike Brady of Fort Carson; Woodward Boyton, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cuthow, and Dr. and Mrs. Karl Luke of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Joyner and Mr. and Mrs. James Grønstad of Greeley; Mrs. Harold Turner and Sharon, Mrs. B. SHE'S FREE, BRIGHT, AND SEVENTY-ONE

Dear Helen:

I am a widow, aged 71, but my friends tell me I don't look it. I certainly don't feel it.

A good friend about 10 years younger is coming to my city on a visit. He hasn't much money, but is a very real person. We worked together for several years in Baltimore and have been longtime friends. He has taken me out for dinner and the theater, and when he sees me he greets me with a hug and kiss. We enjoy each other's company but that is all.

I have a house with several bedrooms and two bathrooms. I have asked him to stay here while in town. My son and daughter-in-law think this is fine, but my older sister is shocked.

What's your opinion? — MRS. Dear Mrs. D.:

I'd say you're free, bright and seventy-one—and perfectly capable of making wise decisions, of which this is a good example.

(Big sisters will hardly ever concede that "kid sis" has grown up!) — H.

Dear Helen: I came across this "TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR DRIVERS" in a London church publication. It could well apply to our U.S. drivers too.

1. Thou shalt hold only the steering wheel.
2. Thou shalt not make unto thee a god of thy horsepower.
3. Thou shalt not take the center lane in vain.
4. Remember the driver behind to help him pass thee.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother and all other passengers.
6. Thou shalt not kill.
7. Thou shalt not commit unbridled driving.
8. Thou shalt not steal thy neighbor's eyes with thy headlights, nor his ears with thy horn, nor his enjoyment with thy litter.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness with thy signals.

10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's right of way. — JAMES

Dear Helen:

Your answer to M.C.'s letter about skirts for men was I think, a little premature. The idea of wearing this kind of apparel in the summer appeals to me, as it is cool and comfortable—and evidently it's being sponsored by fashion designers.

I don't see why you should put down an idea, which, although new to this generation, is practical in warm climates, and has been approved by other people in other lands. Are you prejudiced or something?—MAC

Dear Mac: I didn't put down the idea. All I said was that it probably wouldn't catch on. Maybe you can prove me wrong by starting the style in your town...but I doubt it. — H.

Dear Helen: Someone wrote to you about the widowed father of the bride marrying the divorced mother of the bridegroom and how much mix-up it caused. Consider this: Friends of mine started out this way, but due to misunderstandings and arguments during their courtship, they finally wound up on an exchange basis: The father married the woman's daughter, and the son married the mother! I'm still trying to figure out the relationships of the children which ensued. Can you? — G.R.M.

Dear G: No, but if any of my readers have time to kill and enjoy untangling things, there it is! — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of (name of newspaper).

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The most dramatic premiere of the television season arrived on CBS Sunday night: Lassie became a mother.

The long-playing series opened its 17th season with a seven-part episode which has Lassie off herding sheep. Last week she met a handsome male collier. This week the pups appeared and immediately were in mortal peril. The shepherd with whom Lassie has taken refuge wants to destroy them on the assumption that the father is a killer dog who has been destroying part of his herd.

Of course, Lassie can handle this, and it is probable that a large number of second generation fans of the show will be cheering her on.

Bill Cosby, in the second program of his second NBC season, wrenched his back and spent the rest of the program trying to get some help and relief.

It was a bright and humorous handling of a situation with which many a viewer could identify and sympathize: the bureaucratic red tape of getting admitted to a hospital for treatment; the impersonality of busy doctors and preoccupied nurses working around him.

As a contrast to the reverent treatment which television gives doctors and hospitals in its soap operas and series, it was most refreshing and incidentally had a little something to say. One scene when Bill was being examined by a group of interns as if he were an inanimate object instead of a whimpering human may have carried the fun a little too far, but it too was purposeful.

The Cosby half hour continues to be one of the bright spots in the Sunday night schedule.

"Mannix," starting its fourth season in CBS's Saturday night schedule, is TV's sole surviving, genuine private eye. The format and Mike Connor's character are patterned on the good old reliable Dashiell Hammett idea. The result is predictable, but it is very active.

In the most recent episode, Mannix had his license lifted so he could work undercover to trap a gang of clever robbers headed by a very tough woman. Mannix quickly infiltrated the gang and, of course, they were caught, but not without a very busy climax. It all seemed very, very familiar.

Earlier on Saturday, ABC had a comedy-variety hour starring Ferlin Husky and an assortment of guest stars. It looked very much like a pilot for a series that never found a sponsor.

Husky, a singer, performed primarily as host. The atmosphere was slicked-up country-style and while the music was very weak, "Hee-Haw," by contrast, is a very sleek, urbane hour.

Make First Midi Skirt

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

It's inevitable. You know you're going to make a skirt in the new longer length. You'll make it of a wonderful tweedy wool; you'll look for a pattern that gives a long look through front buttoning; you'll wear it with a sensational wide belt, high-vamp shoes and darker stockings—and you'll look like a million.

Here's the best pattern you could possibly find. The skirt is wrapped to the side, so you have just four buttonholes to make; the easy fit is created through four waistline darts. The blouse, with its softly draped circular ruffle, closes to the side, so a smooth diagonal line flows from neck to hem. The pattern also offers the skirt in mini length, and the blouse in a straight shirtwaist style—two complete looks.

If you plan to make your midi from a pattern you already have, here's an ingenious new way to lengthen the hemline on a circular skirt pattern piece. Figure out how much longer the pattern piece should be—perhaps 3 inches plus another inch for the hem for a total of 4 inches. Cut paper strips 1-inch wide and as long as necessary. Tape to sides of pattern pieces as shown, and pin pattern in place on fabric. Use chalk to mark the new cutting line, measuring evenly between the paper

New trick for lengthening a circular skirt pattern: Strips of paper mark length on side seams. Use chalk and ruler to make line between them parallel to former hem edge.

Child Use of Drugs Under Investigation

By BROOKS JACKSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The growing use of tranquilizers to quiet overactive school children comes under scrutiny this week by a congressional panel concerned the drugs may suppress classroom creativity.

With one federal health official estimating as many as 300,000 children may be receiving tranquilizers, Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.Y., has scheduled hearings starting Tuesday into the situation.

"Before this grows into the millions, I think we ought to have a look at it," Gallagher said. He heads the House privacy subcommittee holding the hearings.

Gallagher's concern is with amphetamine-class drugs prescribed by doctors for such disorders as hyperkinesis—The problem-child syndrome.

But, says Gallagher, there may be a real question as to whether bright, creative youngsters are being drugged to mask natural restlessness in boring classrooms.

CIBA Pharmaceutical Co., which manufactures one of the drugs, gives these symptoms for hyperkinesis, or minimal brain dysfunction:

"He seems in perpetual motion. In constant, purposeless activity. He's aggressive, destructive. Easily frustrated. Can't concentrate. He's bright, yet does poorly in school. He wants friends, yet companions shun him. His behavior makes him nearly unbearable to parents, teachers and playmates."

Gallagher has been investigating the problem informally for four months, since reports surfaced that 3,000 to 6,000 school children in Omaha, Neb., were being given drugs.

Besides the question of bright youngsters being drugged, Gallagher poses some others:

—What happens when such drug use goes on a child's record? Will he be marked for life as needing tranquilizers to function in society?

—What happens when a child who has been given these amphetamine-class drugs—the kind young people call speed—is warned against their use as a pleasurable mind stimulant. Will he believe it? Gallagher says he is also concerned about the safety of the drugs used. CIBA, in its literature on Ritalin, warns against giving the drug to emotionally unstable patients.

HOPE Star SPORTS

Texarkana, Hope B Teams Play

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Using a tenacious defense, the Hope Bobcats bottled up the Fairview Cardinal offense for three quarters and then held their ground when it counted, to aid in a 14-6 win last Friday night in Fairview.

Led by quarterback Ronnie Massanelli, the Hope offense was pretty constant in moving the ball, scoring twice in four penetrations inside the Cardinal 20 yard line.

The first score came on a 29 yard touchdown pass to Roger Newton with 10:16 left in the first half. After Tim White split the uprights, Hope had a 7-0 lead which held at halftime.

Taking the second half kickoff, the Bobcats used a well executed drive down to the Fairview one, before giving up the ball on downs. However, Fairview failed to move and Hope was in business again at their own 25 yard line.

With Massanelli using running backs Roger Newton and Gary Wheeling, Hope ground out yard after yard, with some good, crisp blocking by the offensive line.

About 20 seconds later the Bobcats had pushed into the end zone, after Massanelli followed center Randy Wright in to score. The PAT by White was good and Hope had a 14-0 margin.

However, this time it was Fairviews turn, and they responded on a one yard plunge by Larry Finn with 8:20 left in the game. They did it in 12 plays and looked like a moral boost for the Cardinals.

An inside kick was recovered by Fairview at the Hope 47 and things began to tighten up. Fairview moved to the Hope 19, before the Bobcats denied the Cardinals a first down.

Hope took possession and powered their way out of trouble, before having to punt at their 43.

With four minutes left, Fairview started a drive toward the goal line, but repeated penalties and a couple of tackles by Clifton Peavy left the Cardinals with 27 seconds to cover 32 yards. That wasn't enough time, and Hope had their third victory against one loss.

It was a rough game to the finish, but even with the cuts and bruises, Hope enjoyed the victory and revenge, beating Fairview for the first time in three years.

Much of the offensive success is due to the blocking of Randy Wright, Calvin Willis, Rodney Burke, Tim White, and Richard Butler, who at times opened up large holes for the backs.

The defense played another outstanding game, holding Fairview to 190 yards total offense. In the last three games, the defense has only given up 20 points, and the opponents were lucky to even get that much.

Tonight, the Hope B-team will host the Texarkana, Texas High Tiger B-squad, with gametime set at 7:30 p.m.

The B-team has a present 1-0 record after a come-from-behind 16-14 win over Magnolia two weeks ago.

It should be an interesting game with both teams presenting aggressive teams.

Ohio State, Texas Do the Expected

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas A&M won the coin toss Saturday and elected to take the wind. The next few breezes were stirred up by Ohio State.

The Buckeyes returned the kickoff to their own 27 and quickly showed why they're the top-ranked team in The Associated Press poll.

Leo Hayden ran for 17 yards, Rex Kern for 23, John Brockington for 17 and the ball was on the A&M 16. Five plays later it was in the end zone and Ohio State went on to open its season with a 56-13 romp.

"I was surprised by their decision," admitted OSU Coach Woody Hayes, "but everybody likes the wind."

The Buckeyes led 21-0 at the quarter and rolled up 415 yards on the ground as Hayes unveiled his latest powerhouse. They turned four fumble recovers and an interception into touchdowns and were bothered only by the passing of Lex James, who completed 18 of 30 for 271 yards and two touchdowns.

Second-ranked Texas and No. 3 Stanford kept pace with the Buckeyes but fourth-rated Penn State had the nation's longest winning and unbeaten streaks come to an end at 23 and 31 respectively with 18th-ranked Colorado trouncing the Nittany Lions 41-13 in full view of a national television audience.

Texas took the second-half kickoff 72 yards in 14 plays for a 21-13 lead and turned back stubborn Texas Tech 35-13, stretching its winning streak to 22 games—tops in the country and matching the record for a Southwest Conference team—and avenging its last setback.

Stanford's Jim Plunkett set a Pacific-8 Conference mark with his 37th, 38th and 39th touchdown passes as he rallied the Indians in the second half for a 33-10 triumph over Oregon.

Colorado "outcoached, outplayed, outthru, outscored, outeverythinged" Penn State, according to Coach Joe Paterno of the losers.

An interception on the first play of the game led to a touchdown and the opportunistic Buffaloes never let up, clinching it when Cliff Branch sped 97 with the second-half kickoff for a 27-7 lead.

Mississippi's Archie Manning misfired on all seven passes in the first period but connected on 12 of 23 thereafter, including two to Floyd Franks for touchdowns, as the fifth-ranked Rebels got by Kentucky 20-17.

Notre Dame, ranked sixth, and No. 7 Southern California wind up against each other Nov. 28 and posted identical 48-0 victories Saturday.

Split end Tom Gatewood grabbed 12 of Joe Theismann's 16 completions for 192 yards and three touchdowns as the Irish trampled usually troublesome Purdue.

Southern Cal's John McKay unleashed "the finest group of running backs" in his 11 years at USC and they churned out 506 yards on the ground against Iowa, with Clarence Davis, Sam Cunningham, Jimmy Jones and Lou Harris leading the way.

Sophomore Johnny Rodgers ignited Nebraska's sluggish offense with touchdown receptions of 43 and 26 yards and the eighth-ranked Cornhuskers zapped Army 28-0.

The Air Force, ranked 20th, stunned No. 9 Missouri on the wet AstroTurf in St. Louis 37-14. The Falcons rolled up a 30-0 halftime spread as Bob Parker pitched scoring passes covering 44 and 67 yards to Ernie Jennings.

Two second-half touchdowns.

George Scott drove in five runs with a pair of homers and Gary Peters socked a three-run shot and pitched Boston past Washington. Tony Conigliaro, who hit his 35th homer of the year, contributed four hits to the Red Sox attack as the Senators absorbed their 10th straight loss.

Milwaukee exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning and whipped Chicago behind Marty Pattin. Mike Hegan touched off the big inning with a bunt single then singled home two more.

Brewer runs in the ninth. Jose Azcue's bases-loaded double chased home three runs and Tony Gonzalez tagged a two-run homer as California whipped Oakland. The A's got homers from Allen Lewis, Gene Tenace, and Reggie Jackson.

Arkansas, ranked 12th, belted Tulsa 49-7; a late 53-yard touchdown pass enabled No. 15 UCLA to overtake Northwestern 12-7 for its third straight come-from-behind victory; 16th-ranked West Virginia piled up 545 yards in total offense and crushed VMI 47-10 and Georgia Tech, No. 19, beat Miami, Fla., 31-21 on Eddie McAshan's three TD passes.

Alabama thrashed No. 13 Florida 46-15 and quarterback Pat Sullivan played "his best game ever," according to Coach Shug Jordan, as Auburn turned back Tennessee 36-23. Both of these were key Southeastern Conference games. No. 14 Oklahoma bowed to Oregon State 23-14.

Bengals Fare Badly at Detroit

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Bengals are not bad on paper ... but become just Paper Tigers in the Detroit Lions' lair.

Cincinnati's kids invaded Lion country and were sandbagged in the gulch after leaving their offensive hardware home Sunday.

Result: a 34-3 National Football League licking by Detroit.

The Lions were roundly booed by their fans after letting Cincinnati score a field goal with 27 seconds left in the game, which gives you an idea of how bullish the defense is.

Fact is, Detroit has allowed only six points—two field goals—in the last four regular season games dating back to last year.

The Lions bruised Green Bay 40-0 in the 1970 season opener.

The Minnesota Vikings and Los Angeles Rams threw up iron curtain defenses Sunday in an active day of 12 National Football League games. Minnesota shackled New Orleans 27-0 and Los Angeles ambushed Buffalo 19-0.

Elsewhere, San Francisco clipped Cleveland 34-31; Green Bay spanked Atlanta 27-24; Denver turned back Pittsburgh 16-13; Miami topped Houston 20-10; Chicago defeated Philadelphia 20-16; the New York Jets jolted Boston 31-21; Dallas clubbed the New York Giants 28-10; St. Louis rushed by Washington 27-17 and San Diego and Oakland fought to a 27-27 stand-off.

Lem Barney bolted 61 yards on a punt return stunner in the second quarter and fleet Mel Farr blasted over a pair of touchdowns for Detroit. The Lions had a 31-0 lead at the half and 38-0 before the staggering Bengals answered back with their field goal.

"His kids were out there slugging away right to the end, you have to admire them for that," said Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt of the Bengals, who whipped a strong Oakland team 31-21 in their season opener last week.

The Saints failed to score for the first time in a regular season game and coach Tom Fears was fearful:

"We haven't been moving the ball," he said. "Our backs are not very fast and they (the Vikings) were keying on the fast-est one today."

Fears referred to Tony Bake, who picked up 50 yards on 15 carries.

Fred Cox, stretching his NFL field goal record to 21 straight games, connected from 22, 14, 15 and 47 yards after Minnesota's offense stalled.

Dave Ray kicked four field goals for Los Angeles while the Rams kept the Bills buffaloed

California Teams Coming to Texas

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer
They oughta call this "California Week" in the Southwest Conference what with all the influx of West Coast football teams visiting the state this weekend.

Three California teams will be on hand to try out the Texas talent with the highlight slated for Austin where No. 2 ranked Texas tangles with UCLA. Texas Tech hosts California-Santa Barbara, and the University of California is at Rice.

Southern Methodist is at Northwestern and Texas A&M is at Michigan in other non-conference games. Arkansas and Texas Christian hook up on the second conference game of the season at Fort Worth.

In the second SWC game is anything like the first, Fort Worth had better get ready for a big shindig. Although Texas pulled off to a 35-13 victory over Texas Tech in Tech coach Jim Carlen's first SWC game, the 53,000-plus fans packed into Lubbock's Jones Stadium saw plenty of excitement.

The upstart Raiders, though finally yielding to a superior force, battled back from a 14-0 deficit to trail by only 14-13 at halftime. Texas got it together in the second half with three long touchdown drives as the Wishbone-T gobbled up 432 yards on the ground.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal was quick to praise the opposition.

"They didn't do anything drastically different than what we expected. They did play a little different defensive alignment, which was mildly confusing," Royal said.

"What they did do," he added, "was come out of the chute to battle and they battled. This team will win a lot of games. Texas Tech is a well schooled, well instructed football team. They do not beat themselves."

Carlen had only one word to describe the Texas offense: "Awesome."

It wasn't a game Carlen will soon forget. On the way to the dressing room after the game, Carlen had to subdue a hot-headed fan who charged Tech defensive end Bruce Dowdy. Police told Carlen the man had a knife.

While Tech and Texas were waging conference warfare, the rest of the SWC members—for the most part—were getting their ears pinned.

Louisiana State blanked Rice 24-0, Pittsburgh tripped Baylor 15-10, and No. 1 ranked Ohio State stomped Texas A&M 56-13. Southern Methodist defeated New Mexico State 34-21 and Arkansas pelted Tulsa 49-7 to keep the league from being shut-out. Texas Christian battled Wisconsin to a 14-14 tie.

It left the SWC with an 11-8-1 record against outside competition.

The Aggies, surprise 20-18 winners over LSU last week, trailed 28-7 to the powerful Buckeyes at halftime before the bottom fell out. A&M's two scores were passes of 29 and 22 yards from quarterback Lex James to tight end Homer May.

James completed 18 of 30 passes for 271 yards but most came late in the game against the scrubs.

Gary Hammond and Chuck Hixson put on a scoring show for SMU fans with four first quarter touchdowns, Hammond taking all four across. Hixson handed off to Hammond for two TDs and passed five and 20 yards to Hammond for the other two.

New Mexico State quarterback Rhett Putnam flipped three touchdown passes, but by that time the Aggies were out of it.

Bob Davis ripped over from four yards out for the tying touchdown for TCU in the third quarter. TCU quarterback Steve Judy scored the other Frog touchdown on a 19-yard gallop. The Frog defense also contributed heavily to the tie, blotting three drives by Wisconsin in the fourth quarter.

Arkansas, tuning up for its conference opener, struck twice in 82 seconds against the outmanned Hurricane and it was never a battle. Quarterback Bill Montgomery directed TD drives of 90 and 88 yards and scored on a one-yard run. Jon Richardson and Mike Saint each scored twice for the Razorbacks.

Louisiana State, shocked by the Aggies in its opener got even with the SWC in the 24-0 shiner it pinned on Rice. The Tigers

In Tennis World Rich Get Richer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the world of high tennis finance, the rich are getting richer, and Rod Laver doesn't mind a bit. "It doesn't matter how rich you are," said the 32-year-old Australia left-hander, "anybody can use an extra $5,000."
Rod pocketed $12,000 Sunday, increasing his 1970 earnings to $157,000 with his 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 success against Wimbledon champion and countryman John Newcombe, 26, in the men's finals of the Pacific Southwest Open championships at Los Angeles Tennis Club.
Laver's game was sizzling on an afternoon when the temperature soared above 100 degrees, but his mind admittedly was on the rewards of his labor. "The pressure at the end didn't bother me any more than at the start," Laver said. You play every point as if it was decisive. Of course, when it came down to the very last point I did remember how much was riding on the next point."
Newcombe collected $6,500 for second place and Arthur Ashe of Gum Springs, Va., the No. 7 seed, took $4,000 for third. Ashe defeated unseeded Tom Gorman, Seattle, Wash., in a playoff, 6-4, 6-2, still providing young Gorman with his biggest payoff, $3,000.
Tom Okker of the Netherlands teamed with Marty Riseen of Evanston, Ill., to claim the men's doubles title over Bob Lutz, Los Angeles, and Stan Smith, Pasadena, Calif., 7-6, 6-2. The winners split $2,000, the losers $1,000.
Sharon Walsh, an 18-year-old from San Rafael, Calif., who won the women's singles championship Saturday, played with Janet Newberry, La Jolla, Calif., to triumph in doubles. They defeated Esme Emanuel, South Africa, and Cecilia Martinez, San Francisco, 6-3, 6-4.

Oswald: "Over the years Standard American bidding has remained the best method for the average player. At the same time it has become some sort of conglomerate where the basic rules are indefinite and the most usable innovations have not been added."

Jim: "Just take the minimum requirements for an opening bid. Read any two basic books and you will find a hodgepodge of rules involving position at the table, vulnerability, defense tricks and possibly the signs of the Zodiac."

Oswald: "In presenting JACOBY MODERN to our readers we start by cutting thru all these complications. A hand either qualifies as an opening bid or it doesn't qualify."

Jim: "The first step is to use the standard 4-3-2-1 point-count table with the standard additions of three points for a void, two points for a singleton and one point for a doubleton. Then we come to a Jacoby extra that is already used in Standard American. For purposes of opening the bidding in a suit you subtract one point for 4-3-3-3 distribution. This is most important 4-3-3-3 hands just don't produce as well as they should, in suit contracts."

Oswald: "This brings us to our simple rule for a minimum opening bid. Open any hand with 12 or more high-card points in any position at the table, vulnerable or not vulnerable. EXCEPT hands with 12-13 high-card points and 4-3-3-3 distribution."

Jim: "Today's hand would be passed out in JACOBY MODERN. North and South each hold 13 high-card points with 4-3-3-3 distribution. When actually played, South opened the bidding and wound up going down two tricks at three no-trump. He did make one no-trump, but there was no way to stop there once the bidding was opened."

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M. D.
Man's Living Habits Are Today's Main Challenge
By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

How different your medical problems are today compared to those of people living at the turn of the century.

You have more than one chance in two of dying of a heart attack, a stroke or some other disease of the circulation. In 1900 a heart attack, as we know it today, had not even been described. Oh, the disease we call "atherosclerosis" (fatty deposits in the arteries) and, sometimes less accurately, hardening of the arteries, had been seen in a few people on examination after death. It is now known that some people in fact had this disease, but it was not yet understood by doctors.

It is almost incredible that this same disease is today the single greatest cause for death. Heart and vascular disease kill more people than all other diseases, including cancer, plus automobile accidents and the Vietnam war.

You can do a lot to prevent vascular disease—or its complications such as heart attacks—by how you live. Specifically what and how much you eat, your exercise pattern and your habits—including cigarettes, coffee, cola drinks and alcohol. I shall try in these daily pieces to help you learn a better way to live.

The problem of atherosclerosis is not limited to its role as the leading cause of death. This same disease of the arteries to the brain can cause "senility"—aging—and is responsible for many of the mental problems and nursing home cases in the industrialized nations. You do not have a simple choice between living happily without concern for your health or sudden death.

There is something in between—the possibility of years of senility or being disabled because of a stroke. This may be worse than death itself.

The sad truth is that in the midst of man's great achievements we still don't know what old age really is. What we call old age is usually a disease. All too often it is disease or abnormal function of the body that robs you of youth and vigor and a disease which can be avoided or deferred by proper living patterns.

In the past, man often died from infectious diseases. The emphasis was on germs and viruses. Since there were no antibiotics, many people died of pneumonia and the leading cause of death was tuberculosis. Malaria, once was a major disease in the southern United States and today still ranks as the most dangerous disease to the world traveler. Polio, once the great crippler, has been subdued. Even rheumatic fever with its dreaded complication of rheumatic heart disease can be prevented.

Much of what remains is caused by man and his living habits. It is true that we are the products of our environment and experiences. The individual who understands the role of life patterns on health now has the opportunity—not just to live longer—but to live better. Let's try to find that way together.

Brush Fire Spreading in California

By JOHN PHILIP SOUSA and BOB EDELKO
Associated Press Writers
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Huge fires spread on brush-covered slopes outside San Diego and Los Angeles today after destroying hundreds of homes and forcing thousands to evacuate.

Three persons were killed. One blaze devastated 150,000 acres in southern San Diego County, advancing to the outskirts of several San Diego suburbs. A spokesman for the State Division of Forestry said this fire covered a greater area than any single fire in the state's history.

Another blaze blackened 115,000 acres around the Los Angeles basin.

Fire fighters managed to check the western progress of the San Diego area fire Sunday night as winds, wildly erratic during the day, subsided. But the fire moved southward toward the Mexican border.

More than 50,000 residents fled the San Diego area fire and thousands of others were evacuated from canyon homes as flames raced along a 35-mile front northwest of Los Angeles.

Other fires, some believed set by arsonists, burned in various parts of Southern California for the fourth straight day.

Wary fire fighters battled flames from the air and the ground. They faced another day of temperatures above 100 degrees and winds stronger than 60 miles per hour.

San Diego, Los Angeles and Ventura counties were declared disaster areas by Gov. Ronald Reagan, who urged Californians to donate clothing and toys for families left homeless.

Federal and state teams were ordered in to assess damage and pave the way for federal relief funds.

Evacuation centers were set up in the fire-ravaged areas. Many of the evacuees were taken into the homes of friends and strangers.

All Southern California military bases were ordered to stand by to receive fire refugees.

The San Diego area fire had burned about 200 homes in Pine Valley, Alpine, Jamul, Harbison Canyon, Crest, El Cajon and other communities along a path 30 miles long and 10 miles wide.

South of San Diego, flames approached National City and Chula Vista.

Contending that inflation and increased labor costs have wiped out all gains from previous increases, railroads in the eastern and western United States are seeking a 15 per cent rate boost.

Southern railroads are asking for 6 per cent across-the-board hike until next Feb. 28, plus a permanent 15 per cent increase in coal-hauling charges.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which scheduled a hearing today, is studying all freight rates. But unless the study brings out evidence previously unavailable to the ICC, history indicates the hikes will be allowed.

In the last several decades, ICC officials admit, the commission has never turned the railroads down cold, and in most cases has given them everything they asked for.

The financial collapse last summer of the nation's largest railroad, the Penn Central, lends an urgency to the railroads' plea. And the labor difficulties the carriers have experienced in the last year have evoked a sympathetic response from ICC Chairman George M. Stafford.

In an interview last August, Stafford said rising labor costs are a major financial problem facing the railroads.

The railroads also have felt the pinch of tight money — a problem faced by much of industry but especially critical for the capital-intensive railroads.

Shippers, on the other hand, contend the rail freight rate increases are the result of poor management.

Some members of Congress contend the ICC has allowed the railroads to raise rates without demanding improvements in service.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana became so incensed at the last freight rate hike, approved only last summer, he called for abolishing the ICC and farming out its duties to the Department of Transportation.

One Officer Killed in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — One policeman was killed and another seriously wounded early today as they approached a car they had chased and stopped at an east side intersection.

Killed was Patrolman Joseph Tracz, who would have completed his first year on the force Oct. 17.

In serious condition in Mount Sinai Hospital with wounds in the chest and leg was Patrolman Fred Fulton, a three-year veteran of the force.

Police said the suspect's car was left at the scene. Evidence indicated Tracz had gone on foot to the front of the car and Fulton had approached from the rear.

Police said bullet holes indicated the first shots were fired at Tracz through the windshield of the car.

Four Killed in Plane Crash

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Four persons were killed Saturday night in the crash of a light plane at Drake Field near here.

The plane crashed and burned shortly after taking off, killing Raymond Hurdlebrink, 56, of Kansas City, Mo.; Raymond Herman, 31, of Fayetteville; and Herman's two children, Raymond Lee, 10, and Deborah, 9, police said.

Hurdlebrink, a 31-year flying veteran, was a pilot for the Kansas City Police Department.

Freight Rate Hike Asked by Railways

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads, claiming they are caught between labor unions on one side and bankers on the other, are asking for a fifth hike in freight rates in four years.

Contending that inflation and increased labor costs have wiped out all gains from previous increases, railroads in the eastern and western United States are seeking a 15 per cent rate boost.

Southern railroads are asking for 6 per cent across-the-board hike until next Feb. 28, plus a permanent 15 per cent increase in coal-hauling charges.

Pact Signed to End War in Jordan

AP News Digest

ROME (AP) — President Nixon, in Rome on the first leg of a European visit, talks today with Italian President Giuseppe Saragat and with Pope Paul VI, and was to make an overnight visit to the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Lebanon is reported guarding against renewed guerrilla attacks against Israel today after King Hussein of Jordan, Palestinian commander Yasser Arafat and representatives of eight Arab nations signed an agreement Sunday in Cairo ending the Jordanian civil war.

Observers at Tiberias, Israel, reported that Lebanese troops were out in force along their border Sunday, apparently anticipating increased guerrilla activity.

The peace agreement, signed Sunday by Hussein and Arafat, set up a three-man committee to ensure that its provisions are carried out and to report any violations to the eight cosigning states.

Foremost among the agreement's 14 points is that Hussein's army and the Palestinian forces will withdraw from Amman, almost destroyed by 10 days of fighting. The soldiers were to return to their normal barracks and the guerrillas to positions "best suited to their activities" in the "liberation battle against Israel"—presumably the Israel-Jordan ceasefire line along the Jordan River.

The pact prohibits "all propaganda campaigns" inconsistent with its objectives and orders the return of prisoners taken during the fighting. It directs that Irbid, in northern Jordan, and other guerrilla strongholds north of Amman be returned to the "military and civilian situation existing prior to recent events"—in effect, any northern portion captured by the army would be returned to guerrilla control.

Its final article expresses support for the Palestinian revolution "until it achieves its objective of full liberation and defeat of the usurping Israeli enemy."

The agreement came after a week of meetings among the leaders of Egypt, Tunisia, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, North Yemen, Libya, South Yemen, Sudan and Lebanon. Hussein and Arafat arrived Sunday, and the final draft was completed during two sessions.

The delegate from South Yemen left before the signing ceremony, and the governments of Syria, Iraq, Morocco and Algeria failed either to attend the conference or to sign the agreement.

Rudolph Was Really Trying for Second

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Mason Rudolph, a quite Tennesseean, was lining up a tricky 15-foot downhill putt on the 15th hole Sunday when he realized he was four strokes behind Texas Chris Blocker in the $60,000 Green Island Open Golf Tournament.

"I thought I had to make it to protect second place," said Rudolph, "but then I saw him get in trouble on 14 and I knew if I made it I had a shot at him."

The putt sneaked into the hole, giving Rudolph a birdie three, and, when Blocker, who had entered the final round with a two-shot lead over Cesar Sando and Harry Toscano, bogeyed No. 14, Rudolph was only two strokes behind.

Rudolph then closed with short birdie putts on the final two holes to win his first tournament since the 1966 Thunderbird Classic. His final round 33-31-64 over the 6,711-yard, par 35-35-70 Green Island Country Club course gave him a 274 total, six-under-par.

Meanwhile, Blocker, who had gone to seven under when he birdied 10, 11 and 12, had more misery after the 14th. He also bogeyed 15 and 16 and staggered home in second place with a closing 70 for a 276 score.

"I just couldn't get any of my putts to go in," said Blocker, who missed par putts ranging from 6-8 feet during his string of bogeys.

Rudolph, who joined the pro tour 12 years ago, earned $12,000 for the victory, which came 11 years to the day after his initial triumph in the Lucky Open at San Francisco.

"I've really been playing good for a year, but I just wasn't putting good," he said. "Counting pro-ams, this was my ninth round under 70 in my last 10. I felt everything coming. I had everything under control all the way."

Rudolph and his wife, Carol, celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary Sunday. "She gave me a present today, but I didn't give her anything," said Rudolph, 36. The victory probably sufficed for Mrs. Rudolph.

Jim Jamieson of Moline, Ill., who shot even par in each of the first three rounds, had a closing 68 for a 278 total and third place.

Australian Bob Stanton, co-leader at the 36 hole mark, and Herb Hooper of Richmond, Va., tied for fourth at 279 after shooting 69s.

Bunky Henry was sixth at 280. Then came Bert Weaver, first-round leader Bert Greene and Tom Shaw at 281.

Five players were lodged at 282, including the halfway co-leader, Harry Toscano of New Castle, Pa., and South African Bobby Cole, who had a final round 65.

Engine Change Pays Off for Denis Hulme

BRainerd, Minn. (AP) — Teddy Mayer, Team McLaren manager, felt a change in engines for Denis Hulme would be the thing to start a new streak in the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series.

Hulme, a New Zealander, finished second to New York's Peter Revson Saturday in the qualifying runs.

"I didn't like it," said Mayer, "so we put in a different one."

So Hulme, now pushing a 430-cubic inch Chevrolet instead of a 465, roared to victory Sunday in the $25,000 Minneapolis Tribune Can-Am at Donnybrook Speedway in central Minnesota.

Revson, who also swapped mills when his Lola 465 lost three rocker arms after a record qualifying run, finished in third place behind McLaren racer Peter Gethin of England.

Hulme's victory, worth $12,000, gave McLaren its first checkered flag since a 19-race winning streak was broken two weeks ago at Atlanta. And it moved Hulme into a commanding lead in the Can-Am point standings with 82. Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif., was only six points behind Hulme before the race but finished in sixth place in his McLaren MK12.

Hulme clocked an average speed of 117.574 miles per hour around the three-mile track north of Brainerd, leading Gethin by a full minute in the 110-

Eisenhower Cup Title Won by U.S.

MADRID (AP) — The United States boasted its fourth straight Eisenhower Cup title today, emblematic of the world amateur golf team championship.

"I watched for his shift points," said Hulme, "and every time he shifted, I let mine go for 500 revs farther. The momentum got me that much more at each shift."

In other top auto races, George Follmer of Arcadia, Calif., won the SCAA Continental Series championship race at Lexington, Ohio, driving a Ford; and Clay Regazzoni of Switzerland wheeled his Tecno to victory in the Grand Prix of Imola Formula 2 race in Italy.

Postponed by rain Sunday were auto races at Trenton, N.J., and Martinsville, Va.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Australians Want Time and Wind

By JANE M. DOZIER
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Australia's seekers of the America's Cup want more time—and more wind—to stay alive in their battle on sea and land with America's Intrepid.

They may get the wind. But if Intrepid with its 3-1 lead wins the fifth race today, time will have run out and the 119-year-old Cup will stay in the United States. As it has since the New York Yacht America first brought it here in 1851.

The forecast is for 10-15 knot winds from the northwest, the result of a high pressure area moving in after rain squalls dampened the area Sunday. But such weather conditions can produce more of a blow.

The Aussies of Gretel II, proven as fleet as Intrepid or more so in light air, have not yet had their boat in a strong breeze.

"We think a middle wind is Intrepid's," said Paul Salmon, Gretel II's foredeck man. "But if it's really heavy, it's Gretel II's. Intrepid's gear is awfully light."

The America's Cup triangular course is 24.3 miles long, but 12-meter racing can be a matter of inches in sheet positioning. That's why the Aussies feel the more time they have to know their boat, the faster she'll be.

"Gretel II hasn't been given justice," said crewman Ron Prescott. She has, however, given ruddy fits to the Americans, winning one race in a photo finish and having another victory taken away from her by the New York Yacht Club Race Committee for a starting foul.

That one brought two protests from the Aussies to say nothing of the bales of telegrams from dissenting yacht fanciers the world over who think the Aussies got an ill wind from the NYVC, which was judging the case in which a boat raced by its own members was one of the disputants. Conflict of interest, it's called on land.

There also were protests in the first race, both being disallowed and the Aussies say they intend to protest that Intrepid is actually a 12-and-a-fraction-meter sloop because of additions to her underwater profile after she was measured as a 12.

A major point of interest to bleacher fans aboard the spectator fleet today will be the promptness which skipper Bill Ficker covers the maneuvers of Gretel II and her troupe of helmsmen, Jim Hardy, Martin Villser and David Forbes.

Ficker was slow in covering Gretel II a mile from home on the fourth race and the Aussies sneaked by to win.

It was a popular victory for a popular underdog who, unlike the Mets, still are in the running. Just.

Thinks He Owes Title to Golf Chart

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO Calif. (AP) — Gene Andrews, the new U. S. Seniors golf champion, says he owes his title to his golf cart.

"The electric cart made this whole thing possible," the 57-year-old, Whittier, Calif., golfer said Saturday after beating Jim Ferrie, 60, of Indian Wells, Calif., 1 up Saturday in the finals.

On Friday, both golfers played two rounds over the California Golf Club course.

"I couldn't have gone 36 holes Friday and still had enough left to play another 18 Saturday if I would have had to walk," Andrews said.

Andrews made a 27-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole to win Saturday's match in the tourney for golfers 55 or older. He won the 17th hole with a par.

All that's new for 1971- from Oldsmobile!

Toronado. The Unmistakable One takes on grand new proportions. It is a full five inches longer, and every inch adds to its elegance. Even its trunk is more spacious this year. The new interiors are roomier and far more sumptuous. The front floor is flat from door to door, with no hump to get in the way. Toronado's unique front drive and the totally new ride system deliver greater smoothness, improved traction and sure handling. Add a responsive Olds Rocket 455 V-8, power steering, power front disc brakes, Turbo Hydra-matic—all standard on the front drive Toronado.

Delta 88. Warmest welcome ever to the big-car world. Power steering is standard. So are power front disc brakes. And an impressive 124-inch wheelbase. It's all topped off with Delta 88's remarkable new "G-Ride" System.

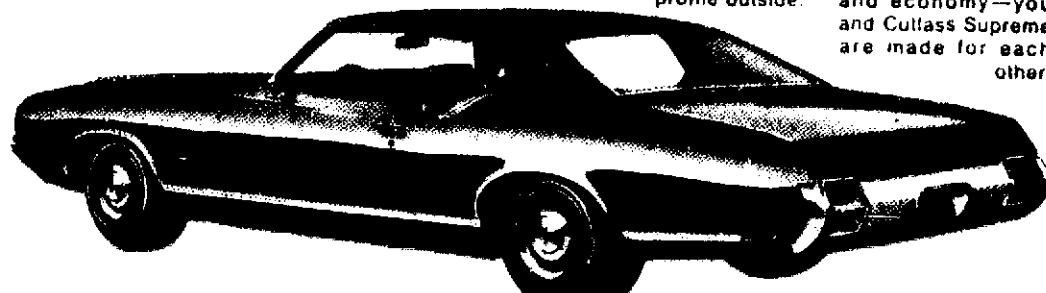

Pollution fighters. Every Olds engine is designed to cut emissions, run efficiently on no-lead, low-lead or regular fuel. Double comfort. New Flo-Thru Ventilation features both upper and lower outlets for greater control, better air circulation. Solid security. Side-guard beams are welded into the doors for protection. One of many Olds safety features for 1971.

The "G-Ride" System. An Olds exclusive—a combination of advances in chassis, suspension, steering and all-new Super-shocks. You ride smoother, corner better, are less affected by stiff crosswinds. It's featured in every 1971 Olds Delta 88.

Cutlass Supreme. Oldsmobile's "little limousine" places all-out elegance within the reach of nearly every new car buyer! And does it so beautifully—with a classic profile outside, deep comfort and luxurious appointments inside. If you're longing for elegance—and economy—you and Cutlass Supreme are made for each other.

Says Diplomacy Needed in Cuba Base Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says diplomacy, not bluff, is needed in dealing with a possible Soviet submarine base in Cuba.

The relative strength of the United States and Russia has changed since the Cuban missile crisis under President John F. Kennedy, Fulbright said. "It was possible at that time to bluff them, I think. I doubt that it is possible now because the best information we have is there is a degree of parity. It is a dangerous situation."

Fulbright spoke Sunday on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

"This calls for diplomacy and not bluff, and certainly not the resort to arms because this is a disaster," he said.

The best way to handle the report of a new base, disclosed Friday by the Pentagon, is to take the matter to the SALT—strategic arms limitation—talks in Vienna, the Arkansas Democrat said.

Fulbright views the possible construction at Cienfuegos Bay on the Cuban south coast not as a test of President Nixon. "They know we have the capacity for destruction," he said.

U.S. officials said Saturday it would be some time before they knew how the Soviets would use the new naval facilities. Although intelligence had spotted equipment moving into the harbor recently, officials said it was not clear what would be installed.

Late Friday, the White House appeared to play down the immediate seriousness of the situation, which it earlier said was being viewed "with the utmost seriousness."

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that among other things, there were no Soviet submarines at Cienfuegos at the present time.

Campus Unrest Report Greeted Indifferently

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential task force's multi-edged fault finding for campus violence has been greeted with much of the indifference and cynicism the panel indicated is reflected in student unrest.

The weekend report by the President's Commission on Campus Unrest had a pall of blame across much of society, the student terrorist, the authority who shoots needlessly, the teacher who tolerates disruption, the college administrator who forfeits discipline.

And the federal government, not only for what it does or doesn't do, but what it says.

The report was submitted after a three month study.

The commission, headed by former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, a Republican, called on all of society to unite against the pressures that set off the mobs, bombings and even killings at universities and colleges over the past year.

But it was to President Nixon that the panel, and Scranton in particular, looked for a solution.

"Only the President has the platform and prestige to urge all Americans, at once, to step back from the battlelines into which they are forming," the report said.

Whether the President can or will take the moral leadership the nine-member task force called for brought divided thoughts in a check of campuses and officials.

"Nixon appointed this commission to pacify the public, not to listen to it," was the reaction from a University of California student, John Emswiler, a 20-year-old self-described moderate.

A slightly more positive reaction, but one still tinged with skepticism, came from William O'Neill, professor of American history at the battle zone-like University of Wisconsin.

"The commission soundly recalls steps to isolate the small, hardcore of totally dissatisfied radicals from the infinitely larger number of sympathizers," O'Neill said. "But presidents appoint commissions to satisfy critics, not to provide action programs."

There was, of course, much positive reaction. From Dan Evanson, a University of Georgia student: "If the commission's recommendations are followed the situation could improve appreciably."

President to Go Aboard The Saratoga

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — After conferences with Italian government leaders and Pope Paul VI, President Nixon takes his Mediterranean mission to the flight deck of the U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga today with the promise that the 6th Fleet will remain strong enough to maintain peace.

Nixon made the pledge Sunday night as he and Mrs. Nixon were welcomed to Italy—the first stop in a nine-day, five nation European tour—by President Giuseppe Saragat, who said the tour is "a mission of justice and peace."

The U.S. chief executive is making the 30-minute helicopter flight from St. Peter's Square to the Saratoga after conferences today with Saragat, Premier Emilio Colombo and the Pope.

The President's arrival Sunday prompted scattered skirmishes between leftist anti-U.S. demonstrators and police. Police picked up 205 youths in Rome Sunday, and 12 remained

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Texas Gridders Attacked and Badly Beaten

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sam McBrierty, a second string defensive end on the University of Texas football team, was in satisfactory condition today after he was attacked by a group of youths outside a restaurant near the campus early Sunday morning.

A team physician said McBrierty, 20, of Ennis, was lucky to be alive after sustaining cuts requiring "several hundred" stitches, 75 in the scalp alone. He also suffered a concussion.

Two other UT players were injured in the scuffle, which occurred after the team had returned from Lubbock, where it played Texas Tech in a Southwest Conference football game.

Offensive tackle Ronnie Tyler, 20, of Jefferson required 26 stitches for cuts on his right side and behind his left ear.

Offensive guard Syd Keasler, 21, of Hallsville received a minor cut on his hand.

Police arrested Samuel Anderson, 17, of Austin on a charge of aggravated assault. Sgt. Harold Moe said Anderson swung at Tyler with a tire tool but missed.

Police also sought Charles Hornsby, 21, of Austin on a charge of simple assault.

The case was still under investigation.

The players arrived back in Austin from their 35-13 victory over Texas Tech in Lubbock soon after midnight.

Sergeant Moe reported this sequence of events:

—McBrierty, Keasler and Tyler went to the Pancake House, a 24-hour restaurant on 19th

Street just south of the campus.

—Anderson thought Keasler and Tyler, seated on a middle table, were mocking him. An argument erupted, but the situation did apparently cool down.

—When the three Longhorns left the restaurant at about 3:45 a.m. they were set upon by seven or eight youths. All of the attackers were black except for one white boy, who allegedly inflicted the worst cuts on McBrierty.

—Tyler and Keasler were attacked first. They retreated to the restaurant. McBrierty was sitting on the front of a car nearby. The white boy ran at him and cut him with an unidentified instrument. McBrierty knocked down the white boy, then fought three black boys in succession, the last of whom hit him over the head with a mop handle.

—McBrierty ran across a parking lot. The attackers chased him.

Sergeant Moe said he did not yet know what happened next, but apparently McBrierty escaped.

The team physician said McBrierty would be sidelined for at least two weeks.

Mrs. Hopkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Williamson.

COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tatum of Grand Rapids, Michigan are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Williams and other relatives of the city.

in custody.

Bands of youths tossed stones through the windows of the American Express office, one bank and several boutiques. They chanted anti-Nixon slogans and tied up traffic at several points.

Nixon evidently saw none of the trouble, which was less serious than the violence that marked his first presidential visit to Rome in February 1969.

A youth was killed and about 120 persons injured in street battles then.

About 12,000 policemen provided security for the President, who arrived at Ciampino military airport. Heavy contingents surrounded the ornate Quirinal Palace, where the Nixon party flew by U.S. military helicopter, and at the American Embassy.

Responding to Saragat's welcome, Nixon said that while visiting the 6th Fleet he would discuss "one of the primary indispensable principles of American foreign policy."

He went on: "And that principle is to maintain the necessary strength in the Mediterranean to preserve the peace against those who might threaten the peace."
